BOSTON, February 19, 1907.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — In compliance with section 24 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances, the Board of Election Commissioners respectfully submits its report for the year 1906.

NUMBER OF VOTERS.

At the city election in 1905 the number of male voters on the list was 113,788. The number of such voters on the first list published by the Board in August, 1906, was 101,888. From that time to the close of registration for the city election there were added the names of 11,319 male voters. In revising the voting list, after the publication of the voting list in August, 675 names were dropped on account of death, removal or other causes. The number of male voters on the final list sent to the polls on the day of the city election, 1906, was 112,532, a decrease of 1,256 from the list of the preceding year.

In 1905 there were 15,655 female voters registered for the city election. In 1906 their number was 14,628, a decrease of 1,027. The total decrease of male and female voters from the preceding year was 2,283.

LEGISLATION OF 1906.

The following chapters of the Acts of 1906 contain the changes in and amendments to the election law :

Chapter 76 extends the term of office of Registrars of Deeds from three to five years.

Chapter 291, section 18, vests in a listing board, composed of the Police Commissioner of Boston and one member of the Boston Board of Election Commissioners, the duties heretofore imposed upon the Board of Police of Boston relative to the listing of male residents and female voters.

Chapter 298 provides for the compensation of the Commissioners elected to apportion Suffolk County into representative districts and more clearly defines the duties of said Commissioners.

Chapter 311 amended the law relative to the location of polling places, and provided that in a city or town which is divided into voting precincts voting booths may be placed in the highways of such city or town provided such highways are left reasonably safe and convenient for public travel.

Chapter 395 provided for the extension of the time in which intoxicating liquors may be sold by certain innholders in the City of Boston, the act to take effect upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters of the City of Boston voting thereon at the city election of 1906. This act was so accepted and is now law.

Chapter 444 is an omnibus act amending, among other matters, the law relative to polling places to be provided for a caucus and containing provisions relative to the appointment of officers for the first caucus under the Boston caucus act.

Section 4 amended the law relative to the nomination of independent candidates by providing that a nomination paper for such candidates, excepting offices to be filled by all the voters of the Commonwealth where the requirements remain the same, to wit, 1,000 signers, shall be signed in the aggregate for each candidate by two voters instead of one voter for every one hundred votes cast for governor at the preceding annual state election in the electoral district or division in which the officers are to be elected, but in no case by less than fifty qualified voters.

Section 5 provided that every voter who signs such nomination paper shall add not only his residence on the previous first day of May, but the place where he is then living, with the street and number thereof, if any.

Section 6 of said act amends the law relative to voting precincts and their designation.

Section 7 provides that a copy of the descriptive voting list shall be furnished by this Board at each primary and election to the warden in charge of each polling place for the use of the police officer in each polling place, and that said list shall not be removed from the polling place and shall be returned to the warden immediately after the close of the polls, who shall immediately transmit the same to this Board.

Section 8 provides that a voter after marking his ballot shall give his name, and, if requested, his residence to one of the officers in charge of the ballot-box, who shall distinctly announce the same. If the name is found on the voting list by the election officer he shall distinctly repeat the name and, in Boston, the height, and check the name upon the voting list. The voter may then deposit his ballot in the ballot-box with the official endorsement uppermost and in sight.

Section 9 amends the law relative to the tabulation of caucus returns.

Section 10 confines the removal of ballots from the ballot-box for the purpose of counting same before the polls close to towns.

Section 11 provides that at a recount of votes cast at elections each candidate, or person representing the petitioners, shall be allowed to be present and witness such recount either in person, accompanied with counsel if he so desires, or by an agent appointed by him in writing, and that in the case of a recount of ballots upon a question submitted to the voters one representative of any committee organized to favor or oppose a question so submitted shall be permitted to be present and witness the recount.

Section 12 provides that in listing of male residents paupers of public institutions shall not be included.

Section 13 amends the law relative to penalty on public officers, caucus officers or election officers or an officer or a member of a political committee or political convention upon whom a duty is imposed by law by providing that such penalty may be either fine or imprisonment, and not imprisonment exclusively as before.

In connection with the change of law relative to the nomination of independent candidates we desire to call attention to this anomaly: under the law as it now stands one thousand voters may nominate a candidate for any office to be filled by all the voters of the Commonwealth, such as Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, etc., while 1,788 voters were required to nominate an independent candidate for the Board of Aldermen in the City of Boston, at the last city election.

In our last report we stated that the time was ripe for a simplification and revision of the election laws, and we have not changed that opinion.

JURORS.

In accordance with chapter 176 of the Revised Laws the Board has prepared a list of the inhabitants of the City of Boston liable to serve as jurors. Following our custom we have made a thorough investigation of the names provisionally selected. We have examined the records of the bureau of criminal investigation of the police department and also the records of the various municipal and district courts for the purpose of excluding from the jury list all persons coming to our notice who have criminal records. For this purpose we have used our entire office force, and can say that this work has been done honestly and carefully as results have shown. The jury list, as finally selected, contains men of different callings, qualified to serve, who have been selected in an impartial manner from every ward in the city. One of the means to attain this result has been the posting of a sign in the office of the Board to the effect that the Board has voted that no application for jury service would be received, and no such applications were received.

COMPLAINTS OF ILLEGAL REGISTRATION.

There were no such complaints.

BOSTON BALLOT LAW COMMISSION.

The Board, sitting with Chief Justice Wilfred Bolster, as the Boston Ballot Law Commission, passed upon all matters relative to objections and questions arising in cases of nomination papers of candidates for office, the papers in connection with which, with the result of our findings, are on file in the office of the Board.

VOTING MACHINES.

The Board on Voting and Counting Machines, consisting of the Mayor of Boston and the Board of Election Commissioners, met and organized by the choice of His Honor the Mayor as Chairman, and Melancthon W. Burlen as Secretary.

This Board, in accordance with its power to determine upon, purchase and order the use of voting and counting machines, purchased two Dean voting machines. The Election Commissioners under the law voted that the machines so purchased should be used in precinct 6 of Ward 7 and precinct 6 of Ward 10 at the city election, and such machines were so used. The machines were capable of taking care of about 250 voters, and these precincts, consisting of a Republican and a Democratic precinct, were selected with that in mind. From reports of the election officers, and from such views of the voters in those precincts as we have been able to gather, the working of these machines were in the main satisfactory.

Before voting machines are purchased for use of the entire city, several matters in connection therewith should receive serious consideration: First, the law in reference to the legality of their use at election of representatives to the General Court, about which, according to the last opinion of the Supreme Court on the subject, there is some doubt, should be absolutely settled. Second, if the legality of their use is settled favorably, the statute relative to voting by machine must be revised. Third, their adaptability for use at primaries must be proved, for it would be confusing as well as expensive to have different methods of conducting primaries and elections. Fourth, the cost of equipping the entire city with such machines is of importance, the exact amount of which at the present time is problematical. Fifth, the cost of storage, maintenance and employment of skilled mechanics to prepare such machines for use must be considered.

In our opinion the main and great results obtained by the use of voting machines are accuracy and rapidity in election returns, in connection with which we would say that within fifteen minutes after the close of the polls the returns of the votes were publicly announced at the polling places. Such machines make it impossible to cast a defective ballot and their use tends to reduce the possibility of fraud. Consequently they would reduce recounts and the cost thereof to a minimum.

In conclusion, we say that, after the legal questions are out of the way, the matter of their adoption and purchase is not one that can be hastily settled, but must be examined deliberately from all view-points before final decision.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE BOARD.

The term of John M. Minton, Esq., expired April 30, 1906. He was reappointed for the term of four years ending April 30, 1910, assumed the duties of his office May 1, 1906, and was designated by the Mayor as chairman and member of the Listing Board.
